

Plant Growth and Changes

On this fieldtrip students become scientists and collect data on soils, plants and animals in a forest ecosystem.

Students examine the differences between and old and young forest

Taking measurements in the forest